We unfortunately do not have access to PACER to verify. I have reached out to David Harlow at OGC to see if he can check. Also checking with Suzanne who is acting for James to see if she can find someone at NMED. She called NMED's general counsel and got her voicemail. The US District Court for the District of NM webpage requires PACER account to access filings. If I can get an answer before 3 – will get it to you all!

I have reached out to my poc at Nmed but have not heard back from her. I tried looking on the internet but have not been able to verify the lawsuit has been moved to feder court.

Perhaps James or Lynde can assist.

Good afternoon gents,
Do we know the latest info for this? As soon as we know what's what, we can update the statement. As you probably saw, Ken would like it by 3pm.
Thanks so much,
Jeff

David Garcia and Jeff McAtee,

I learned this morning that Sterigenics has moved the lawsuit to federal court. Can we update the desk statement to reflect that, and if possible, determine which federal court. I'm assuming it's the Fed Dist. Court of NM.

Ken/David/James,

FYI, attached is information on the States (New Mexico) law suit against Sterigenics/Santa Teresa facility specific to ethylene oxide emissions. The attachment contains a fact sheet and suggested talking points in case the Region begins to get outside inquiries. Please note, although this is a state only action that was filed in District Court, we are staying in communication with NMED and EPA HQ on this matter.

Jeff,

Pls refer to the attached suggested talking points.
